

Cali Lewis

Tech Journalist

An early podcasting pioneer, Cali Lewis began covering tech news online immediately after the release of the first video iPod. She knew it was revolutionary, and expected people would need content for the new format.

That's exactly what happened!

Cali Lewis has become a household name in the tech industry and her podcasts have been viewed hundreds of millions of times in the last five years. She's also a noted industry commentator with regular appearances on CNN, FOX, ABC, NBC, MSNBC, Sirius, and as both a keynote speaker and panel participant at industry events.
